administrative exceptions, shall be considered by the Planning Commission in a public hearing noticed in the manner set forth in Section 11.4.1.

(2) Findings. When approving, conditionally approving, or denying any application for an exception, the Commission shall consider the findings set forth below. The Commission shall deny an application not meeting all of these findings:

- (A) The granting of the exception will achieve one or more of the following:
 - (i) Greater floor area equity among property owners with different sized lots and within the same zoning district and neighborhood without the resulting Floor Area Ratio (FAR) exceeding the average FAR for properties within the same zoning district and within 300 feet from the exterior boundaries of the project site.
 - (ii) Enable interior additions located within the confines of the existing exterior walls;
 - (iii) Assist in providing required off-street garage parking (for existing residences that currently have substandard parking).
- (B) The granting of the exception will not result in a substantial adverse impact to the views or privacy of adjacent property owners.
- (C) The granting of the exception will not result in significant bulk for a new building or a significant increase in building bulk for an existing building.

(3) Criteria For Substantial Adverse Impact to Views or Privacy. The following criteria shall be used by the reviewing authority to determine whether a Floor Area Exception will have a substantial adverse impact on views or privacy:

- (A) Private views. A private view is an unobstructed view from a bedroom, common area, or amenity area (deck, patio, etc.) to a prominent natural feature or landmark (i.e., the San Francisco Bay or undeveloped ridgelines). A substantial adverse impact may be determined based on:
 - (i) Where the view originates (which room or amenity area);
 - (ii) The relative value of other views that occur on site;
 - (iii) The quality of the natural feature or landmark in the view;
 - (iv) How much of the view is obstructed.
- (B) Privacy. A substantial adverse privacy impact may be determined based on:

- (i) Setbacks/Additional Setbacks;
- (ii) Topography;
- (iii) Window design;
- (iv) Window to window alignment;
- (v) Vegetation;
- (vi) Location of decks, balconies, pools, and other amenity areas;
- (vii) Buffer strips and fencing;
- (viii) Location of parking and access ways;
- (ix) Location of entries and paths of travel;
- (x) Lighting.

 (4) Standard for Review of Building/Addition Location. As much as practical, the resulting new construction would be located to avoid or reduce bulk, privacy and private view impacts to adjacent properties.

(e) ADMINISTRATIVE EXCEPTIONS. The Community Development Director may administratively approve exceptions to floor area standards for single family homes in Table 4 – Slope\Intensity on lots 5,000 square feet or greater for the following types of projects after making the findings listed under Section 4.2.10(d)(2)(A) – (C).

(1) Garage additions. Garage additions that meet all of the following:

(A) The addition is 450 sq. ft. or less.

(B) There is no garage or a less than conforming two-car garage on site.

(C) The resulting home would not be larger than the maximum permitted home size allowed within the applicable R-1 zoning district under Table 5 – Lot Size/Intensity.

(2) Interior Additions. Interior additions that meet all of the following:

(A) The home was built before the effective date of the ordinance adopting this subsection.

(B) All added floor area will be located entirely within the confines of the exterior walls of the main structure, and will not result in the moving, extending, or addition of any exterior walls.

(C) The resulting home would not be larger than the maximum permitted home size allowed within the applicable R-1 zoning under Table 5 – Lot Size/Intensity.

(D) No floor area exception for the dwelling for an interior addition has previously been approved and built on the subject property.

(f) EFFECT - An exception to floor area standards shall become effective 10 days following the date on which the request is granted unless subject to an appeal. An exception which has been the subject of an Appeal to the Council or review by the Council shall become effective 3 days following the date on which the exception is granted by the Council.

(g) LAPSE OF RESIDENTIAL FLOOR AREA EXCEPTION AND EXTENSION OF TIME - An exception shall lapse and shall become null and void one year following the date on which it became effective, unless prior to the expiration of one year, a building permit is issued by the Building Official and construction is commenced and diligently pursued toward completion on the site, or a certificate of occupancy is issued by the Building Official for the site which was the subject of the Exception application. Extensions of time shall be governed by Section 10.5.

(h) REVOCATION - An exception shall be deemed null and void upon a finding by the Zoning Administrator that the property for which such exception has been granted is in violation of any applicable provision of this Ordinance, or that there has been failure to comply with any condition or conditions imposed in the granting of such exception.

(i) NOTICE OF HEARING - All exceptions considered by the Planning Commission shall be subject to the noticing requirements of Section 11.

(j) NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS - Notice of administrative approvals shall be mailed to the Planning Commission and City Council, and to all property owners within 300 feet of the property which is subject to the approval, stating the opportunity to file a written appeal. Notice to the Council and Commission may be provided by e-mail.

 4.2.11 NEW CONSTRUCTION - New homes and additions must comply with the Residential Design Criteria if the new construction:

(a) ground floor plate height exceeds 12 feet or roof height exceeds 18 feet (as measured from finished grade), or

(b) creates or expands an upper floor.

* 4.7 HILLSIDE RESIDENTIAL AND OPEN SPACE (HRO) DISTRICTS (note: HRO-1 applies to unsubdivided, HRO-2 applies to subdivided)

4.7.1 PURPOSE - The City Council finds and declares that certain areas of the City provide unique terrain features and add substantially to the character of the area, that the location and visibility of development therein will affect the visual quality of the environment, and that hillside development should preserve the natural terrain while providing a density of residential development compatible with the limitations of slope on the development site. The Council further finds that there are geologic and soils hazards in the area, steep slopes, and inadequate roadways making it necessary to reduce density in portions of the San Juan Hills Area to protect the public safety and to reduce significant and cumulative traffic impacts to the Ralston Avenue corridor. The objectives of this chapter's regulations are to encourage minimal grading and to reduce citizens' exposure to hazardous slopes by decreasing residential density as slope increases, to encourage clustering of homes and density transfer to reduce roadway and driveway grading, to regulate home size, and to encourage the voluntary merger of lots.

4.7.2 PERMITTED USES - The following uses shall be permitted in the HRO-1, HRO-2 and HRO-3 Districts:

Each lot created by subdivision, or any remainder parcel associated with a subdivision, shall individually meet the minimum lot size standard based upon that lot's particular slope. The allowable density indicated, however, does not preclude the hearing body from determining that a lower density, or larger lots, from that indicated is required to meet the purpose of this ordinance and the goals and policies of the General Plan.

- (c) SUBSTANDARD LOTS - Vacant lots which are nonconforming to the required lot size shall be allowed a floor area which is the larger of 1,200 sq. ft. or the floor area ratio applicable to the lot's slope category, except when the average lot slope exceeds 30%, then the allowed floor area shall be the larger of the minimum floor area or the floor area ratio applicable to the lot's slope category as shown on Table 2 – HRO-2 Floor Area Ratio Standards.

- (d) FLOOR AREA TRANSFER - The permanent transfer of floor area development potential in the HRO-2 Zoning District from one discontinuous site to another site along the same roadway and within the same statistical subarea as shown on the San Juan Hills Area Plan shall be permitted upon approval of an Administrative Conditional Use Permit by the Zoning Administrator. Any project resulting in a floor area ratio exceeding 0.5 shall be subject to public hearing by the Planning Commission. Floor area transfer use permits are subject to the following:
 - 1. Application requirements - A conditional use permit application for floor area transfer shall be accompanied by the following:
 - a. Map showing the location and boundaries of the proposed sending and receiving parcels.
 - b. Calculations showing the maximum allowable floor area on the receiving parcel according to the requirements of this ordinance.
 - c. Site plan of the receiving parcel showing the proposed locations of all buildings, driveways, and grading.
 - d. A signed contractual agreement with the owner of the sending property to transfer floor area to the owner of the receiving parcel, and agreeing to record an open space or conservation easement restricting all development potential attributable to the sending parcel, and evidence of title insurance on the sending parcel indicating that the parties to the contractual agreement have the right to enter into such a contract.
 - e. Program for ownership and management of the sending property. Such a program may include merger with contiguous property, fee ownership by a private conservation organization; fee ownership by the owner of the receiving parcel, or other means approved by the Planning Commission.
 - f. An approved hillside road improvement plan.

* Amended by Ord. #979, 5/14/02, and by Ord. #982, 1/28/03

2. Standards for Floor Area Transfer

- a. Floor area and development rights transfer shall be by recordation of a deed of development rights transfer on each lot describing the transfer between the owners of the sending and receiving parcels.
- b. An open space or conservation easement and an ownership and open space management plan for the sending parcel shall be approved and recorded prior to issuance of a building permit for construction of any transferred floor area.
- c. The total floor area allowed on the receiving property shall be that which would be allowed on the receiving lot plus 1,200 sq. ft. If the applicant can demonstrate through survey that the sending property would yield more than 1,200 sq. ft. then the floor area allowed on the receiving site shall be the summation of the floor area allowed on the sending and receiving sites. Total allowed floor area shall not exceed 3,500 sq. ft. on any one lot.

3. Conditional Use Permit Findings Required for Approval

- a. The proposed transfer of density is consistent with the policies of the San Juan Hills Area Plan and the Geologic Hazards Ordinance.
- b. Adequate infrastructure exists or its construction is assured, and for sites requiring road improvement plans, such plans have been approved.
- c. The pattern of development which would result from the transfer of floor area is better than could be achieved through the application of this ordinance without floor area transfer, due to less grading, less street and utility extension, and better building site locations.
- d. The sending property will be protected from development by the establishment of a conservation easement over its entirety, or be merged with an adjacent lot and a conservation easement established over land equal in area to the sending site, and the ownership and management of such property will be adequately provided for.

- e. The proposed building sites will not be in an area designated Md or Pdf on the current geologic hazards map.
 - f. All floor area transfer standards will be met.
- (e) DENSITY TRANSFER - The permanent transfer of residential units in the HRO-2 Zoning District from one group of lots to another discontiguous site along the same roadway and within the same statistical subarea as shown on the San Juan Hills Area Plan shall be permitted upon approval of a conditional use permit by the Planning Commission. Density transfer use permits are subject to the following:
- 1) Application requirements - A conditional use permit application for density transfer shall be accompanied by the following:
 - a. Map showing the location and boundaries of the proposed sending and receiving parcels.
 - b. Calculations showing the maximum allowable density and minimum lot size on the sending and receiving parcels according to the requirements of this ordinance.
 - c. Site plan of the receiving parcels showing the proposed locations of all homes, driveways, and grading.
 - d. A signed contractual agreement with the owner of the sending property to transfer density to the owner of the receiving parcel, and agreeing to record an open space or conservation easement restricting all development potential attributable to the sending parcel and evidence of title insurance for the sending parcel indicating that the parties to the contractual agreement have the right to enter into such a contract.
 - e. Program for ownership and management of the sending property. Such a program may include merger with contiguous property, fee ownership by a qualified private conservation organization, fee ownership by the owners of the receiving parcel, or other means approved by the Planning Commission.

3) Conditional Use Permit Findings Required for Approval

- a. The proposed transfer of density is consistent with the policies of the San Juan Hills Area Plan and the Geologic Hazards Ordinance.
- b. Adequate infrastructure exists or its construction is assured.
- c. The pattern of development which would result from the transfer of density is better than could be achieved through the application of this ordinance without density transfer, by reducing the need for roadway extensions, reducing grading, and relocating development potential to less steep areas.
- d. The sending property will be protected from development by the establishment of a conservation easement over its entirety, or be merged with an adjacent lot and a conservation easement established over land equal in area to the sending site, and the ownership and management of such property will be adequately provided for.

- e. The proposed building sites will not be in an area designated Md or Pdf on the current geologic hazards map.
 - f. All density transfer standards will be met.
- f) LOT LINE ADJUSTMENTS: Lot line adjustments are permitted in the HRO-2 Zoning District upon approval by the Zoning Administrator.
